Headline:
Sunshine and showers, cold and clear overnight.

Today:
A cold, bright start for many with a few showers in the far north east, quickly spreading inland. Showers may be heavy at times during the afternoon, however staying clear and sunny on the coasts with a light breeze. Maximum temperature 9 deg C (48 deg F).

Tonight:
The showers will steadily die away during the evening to leave a mainly dry night across the region with a touch of frost developing by dawn. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Saturday:
Similar to Friday with showers forming during the morning. These slow moving and heavy at times during the afternoon. Some sunny spells, mainly near the coasts again. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Showers on Sunday again. Bright on Monday at first, but turning cloudier with widespread rain and strong winds. Improving overnight with intermittent rain by Tuesday, sunny spells and lighter winds.
